Profile

r2row and daughter, Aeja

r2row:

r2row is the founder and program director of Ojo Murals 4 Service (art4service.org), a community-based mural program serving South Santa Clara and San Benito counties. For the past eleven years, he has actively worked with public schools and community organizations to create murals. For the last six years, he has taught full-time at Gavilan College, connecting college students to local youth through the mural creation process. With titles such as "Rollercoaster de la Educacion," "Overcoming Racism" and "Enduring Wage," r2row's murals explore meaningful social issues with direct participation from the communities the murals serve.

"One of the things I enjoy most about teaching at Gavilan College is being the "keeper" of Studio 102. It is exciting for me to facilitate an environment where the creative genius is called forth from all—even those in denial. If the conditions are right, there is infinite potential in all of us and none shines brighter than our students. If you are taking one of my courses I hope you are enjoying it; if you haven't, come on by and see what we are all about."
